

Revision Thu(REV2):

In the skies filled with falling stars, glowing Health Stones occasionally descend gracefully. Marked with the '+' symbol, these rare objects restore the player's health when collected, granting a second chance at survival.

In this revision, you will introduce a new collectible type, `HealthStone`, which extends the `Entity` class.

- Update your `GameField` class so that there is a small chance to spawn a `HealthStone` instead of a Star or Asteroid.
- When the basket collides with (catches) a `HealthStone`:
 - The Health Stone is removed from the field.
 - The basket's health increases by 1 point.
 - A message (" You healed by one health point! ") is displayed on the screen for that turn.
- If a `HealthStone` hits the ground (`y == HEIGHT - 1`) without being caught, it simply vanishes. It is removed from the field, and no health or score is lost.

You can access the sample output as a text file here